Army Revolt Leader Forced to Surrender

Move Comes After Tanks Ring Home

Second in Command Announces by Radio He Has Taken Over

JAKARTA (AP)—The leader of the army revolt in North Sumatra was believed to have surrendered to his second in command early today after tanks surrounded his home.

Lt. Col. Djamin Gintings announced in a radio broadcast from Medan, the North Sumatra capital that he had replaced the rebel leader, Col. Maludin Simbolon, as military commander of the area.

Gintings pledged to "obey President Sukarno" and said "from now on connections with the central government will carry on as before."

Simbolon earlier had ordered Simbolon to hand over his command to Gintings. Simbolon had supplanted the local governments named by the central regime of Premier Ali Sastroamidjojo and demanded Sastroamidjojo's resignation.

There was no immediate word from Central Sumatra, where Lt. Col. Achmad Husein took over the government last week in a bloodless coup similar to Simbolon's.

The story of Simbolon's ouster was brought back to Jakarta by K. H. Dachlan, chairman of the Orthodox Moslem party who returned by plane this afternoon from the party's annual conference in Medan.

He said tanks surrounded Simbolon's house before dawn.

The officer in command of the tanks called to Simbolon to surrender.

Dachlan said he did not hear any firing and assumed therefore Simbolon had surrendered. He added the operation was carried out so quickly that "I am sure that Simbolon did not have time to escape."

Earlier and reliable government sources had said that Gintings had the backing of only a fifth of the armed forces in North Sumatra while the remainder supported Simbolon.

Hoover Accepts Invite To Inauguration, But Truman Declines

WASHINGTON (AP)—Former President Herbert Hoover has accepted an invitation to the inauguration of President Eisenhower on Jan. 21, but former President Harry S. Truman has declined.

Sen. Bridges (R-NH) chairman of the Congressional Inaugural Committee, announced this today. Hoover, Republican president in 1929-33, will attend the ceremonies at the Capitol, Bridges said. He said Truman, Democratic president from 1945 until Eisenhower took office in 1953, informed the committee:

"I wish I could come and regret that it will not be possible for me to do so."

Mild Temperature Expected for State

KANSAS CITY (AP)—So far nothing has shown up to upset the outlook for continued fair skies, mild temperatures and light winds in Missouri.

By Friday afternoon the weatherman expects temperatures to rise to between 60 and 65 in the south and 50 to 55 in the north.

Temperatures in the state this morning ranged in the 30s with St. Joseph recording a 32 for low.

Two Attractions

It's a nice, clear day for recuperating from Christmas and for taking advantage of those post-Christmas sales.

Continued fair tonight and Friday with slightly rising temperatures; low tonight in mid-30s; high Friday near 60.

The temperature at 7 a.m. was 32, 62 at 1 p.m., and 53 at 2 p.m. Low Wednesday night 32.

The temperature one year ago today, high 53, low 25; two years ago, high 62, low 43, with .25 inch of rain; and three years ago, high 50, low 29.

Stage at Lake of the Ozarks 51.4, fall 1.

TEACHER FREED FROM JAIL—Resigned high school English teacher William Cheney, 35, of Eldon, Mo., is greeted by his wife, Irene, 33, their son, Dana, 4, and daughter, Stephanie, 7, after he was released from jail at Versailles, Mo., on bond pending a hearing on a motion for a new trial. Cheney and his wife both were sentenced to 10 days in jail for refusing to allow Stephanie to attend a rural school they feel is unsafe. (NEA Telephoto)

Grand Jury Indicts Four In Map Case

True Bill Charges Conspiracy in Oil Map Transportation

PITTSBURGH (AP)—A federal grand jury today indicted four men in connection with the interstate movement of valuable oil exploration maps stolen from Gulf Oil Corp.

Charged with conspiracy in the indictment are:

Odie Seagraves, 70, of Houston, Tex., and New York; Irving Milner, about 40, formerly of New York; Emanuel Lester, also known as Emanuel Liberman, 32, and his brother Edward Liberman, 30, both of the Bronx, N.Y.

The 19 member grand jury returned the true bill after a two hour session. U. S. District Judge Rabe F. Marsh accepted the indictment and issued bench warrants for the arrest of the four.

The indictment accused the four of conspiring with "two unidentified co-conspirators." Thomas W. B. Smith, former Gulf Oil geologist, and John Marvin Leivia, 34, of Orange, Texas.

Both Smith and Leivia testified before the grand jury.

The indictment said the four defendants, Leivia and Smith conspired to transport "certain geological or seismicographic maps of the Gulf Oil Corp. in interstate commerce"

According to the indictment the maps were valued in excess of $5,000 but government officials earlier said their potential value was in excess of a million dollars.

Three of the four men named in the indictment were arrested by FBI agents in New York Dec. 18 when the case first came to light.

Milner, the fourth man indicted, was not publicly connected with the case until today.

U.S. Atty. D. Malcolm Anderson said Milner is believed to be in Canada.

Statistics Are Painful

HOLIDAY HIGHWAY TOLL SOARS—Pain shows on the face of Clair Zimmerman of Fond du Lac, Wis., who was pinned in a car for more than an hour after being struck by a truck driven by Walter Huber, 24, of Milwaukee, near Lomira, Wis. Huber was killed. The nation's holiday highway fatalities rose over the National Safety Council's estimate of 660 dead as the U.S. had its bloodiest Christmas in history. (NEA Telephoto)

Will Hold Hearing On Election Dispute In Race for Sheriff

CLINTON, Mo. (AP)—A hearing will be held here Friday on the contested sheriff's election.

Lawrence W. Sartin, Democrat, was certified the winner by 24 votes. However, incumbent Everett W. Austin contended he had won, disputing 60 absentee votes.

Judge Arthur Rogers, Richmond has been appointed by the Missouri Supreme court to hear the case.

Negroes Defy Segregation Law on Buses

Call Arrests Basis For Federal Appeal; Leader Sends Wire

BIRMINGHAM, Ala. (AP)—Negroes today continued to defy Birmingham segregation laws by riding in the white sections of city buses, although their leader said they already had laid the basis for a federal court case.

Police began arresting Negroes yesterday when they deliberately violated the bus segregation ordinance in mass numbers. But in spite of the quick crackdown, a large group voted last night to continue riding on an integrated basis.

The decision to ignore segregation laws was made by some 400 after a telegram was read from the Rev. Martin Luther King of Montgomery, leader of the successful attack on bus segregation laws there.

Earlier the Rev. F. L. Shuttlesworth, head of the Birmingham attack on Southern segregation barriers, had told a mass meeting enough Negroes had been jailed on segregation law violation charges to lay the groundwork for an appeal to the federal courts.

Asst. Police Chief C. J. Lance said Negroes were reported seated in the white sections of two buses during the early morning. He said the report came from a white woman who said she waited for a third bus because Negroes were violating segregation laws on the first two buses.

Shuttlesworth, president of the Alabama Christian Movement for Human Rights, said the group would defend any Negro charged with violating the segregation laws if they sign a pledge of non-violence.

A "defense fund" of $543 was collected at the two meetings last night, and some Negroes pledged property to make bonds for those charged with violating the segregation law.

All of those arrested yesterday were charged with violating the segregation ordinance. This gives them a clear-cut case to take into federal court if they are convicted. All were free on bond.

Conviction of violating the bus segregation law carries a maximum penalty of six months in jail and a fine on each count.

Under the ordinance Negroes are seated to the rear of city buses and white persons to the front. A sign designates the sections for the two races.

Shuttlesworth was among Negroes who rode in sections of buses designated for white persons but was not arrested for this act. He later was arrested on a charge of driving without a license, but this apparently had no connection with the bus-riding demonstration.

Shuttlesworth's home was shattered and his adjoining church, the Bethel Baptist, was damaged by a large dynamite bomb Christmas night. Two of his children and a visitor suffered minor injuries.

To Ask Death Penalty For Six Jailbreakers Charged in Robbery

DOVER, Tenn. (AP)—Dist. Atty. Gen. Reeder Parker said today he will ask the death penalty for six Texas jailbreakers arrested Sunday after robbing a motel, wounding a state trooper and wrecking his patrol cruiser.

All pleaded guilty when arraigned yesterday on charges of armed robbery in the motel hold-up. Under Tennessee law, armed robbery is a capital offense.

The six also are charged with attempted murder in the shooting of State Trooper J. W. Bilbrey, who tried to question them after the robbery of Mr. and Mrs. Hiram Wallace, motel operators, and with automobile theft.

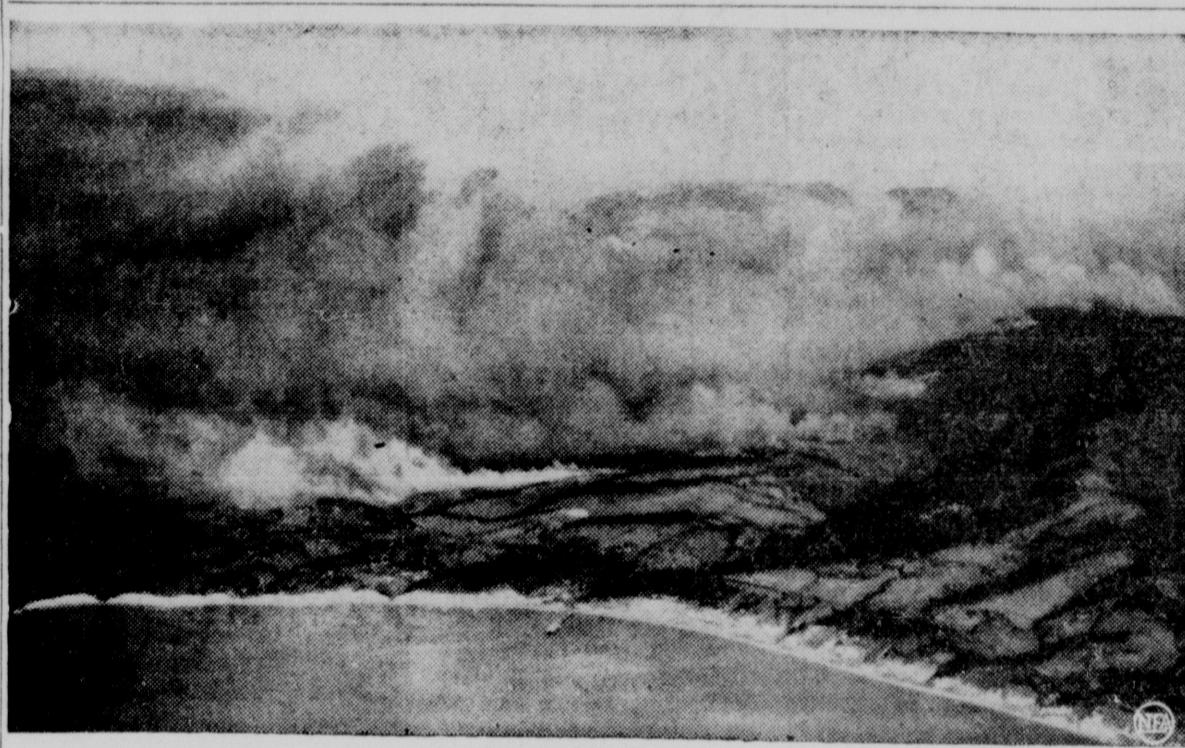

The jailbreakers spread terror from Georgetown, Tex., where they assaulted a jailer and fled Friday night, to Dover, where their activities were halted Sunday after a 10-hour manhunt over two Tennessee counties.

They were arraigned yesterday after a 75-mile state trooper convoy from Nashville, where they are imprisoned without bond for safekeeping.

Buckner residents are voting on an annexation proposal. If adopted the plan would add about 45 acres to the east and south sides to square out the city.

Destroys 20,000 Acres

Timber and Brush Fire Rages With New Fury in California Luxury Home Area

MALIBU, Calif. (AP)—A gale-whipped brush and timber fire raged with new fury today as two more spots broke out and the perimeter increased to 22 miles.

The fire, burning for the second day in a scenic area extending from the Pacific Ocean inland to the Santa Monica Mountains, has now consumed more than 20,000 acres. A number of substantial homes have been destroyed and one man has died.

Winds up to 50 miles per hour harassed the fire crews at the lower levels and those higher up reported they were all but helpless in the face of gusts which frequently reached 70 to 80 m.p.h.

Some Are Doomed—

Repatriates Say Reds Have Sent Over Million to Camps

MAIZURU, Japan (AP)—Soviet Russia has poured more than a million prisoners into slave labor mining camps in the Kolyma district of northeastern Siberia, three Japanese repatriates said today.

Most of the prisoners—Ukrainians, Poles, Germans, Hungarians and some Japanese—are doomed never to return to the repatriates told a Kyodo News Service correspondent.

All those arrested yesterday were charged with violating the segregation ordinance. This gives them a clear-cut case to take into federal court if they are convicted. All were free on bond.

The new base will guard the nation's southern sea lane through the Gulf of Aqaba to the Red Sea. Egyptian gun positions overlooking the gulf from the adjoining Sinai Peninsula had kept most Israeli-bound shipping out before the invasion of the Sinai.

Israeli forces in their invasion occupied Sharm el Sheikh (Solomon's Bay), the Red Sea port on the southern tip of the Sinai Peninsula guarding the approach to the Gulf of Aqaba. The Israelis also occupied the Tiran Islands at the entrance to the gulf.

Israel's other naval base is at Haifa, on the Mediterranean.

Several Missouri Communities Hold Special Elections

KANSAS CITY (AP)—Several Missouri communities are holding special elections today.

Voters in the reorganized school district comprising parts of three counties centered about King City are voting for the fourth time on a $500,000 school building proposal. The district comprises parts of Gentry, DeKalb and Andrew counties.

Farmers Suffer More Colds Than People in Urban Areas

NEW YORK (AP)—Oddities found by a columnist during his year-end desk cleaning:

That women get twice as many colds as men, but how does this jibe with the fact that well-to-do people generally catch only half as many colds as the poor?

That if, during a holiday cocktail party, you kiss a pretty blonde who has a cold, the odds are 9 to 1 you won't catch her cold. What you'll catch from your wife, if she sees you, is another matter.

That farmers suffer more colds than suburbanites, cautious old people suffer fewer than the young folks. And to wind up the whole subject, January is national Take Care of Your Cold month.

That Dr. J. Schultz, head of a cosmetics firm, predicts that by the year 2000 women will wear makeup that will last indefinitely. And one of the popular lipstick colors will be light blue!

Survey Shows Most Teen-Agers Think They Are Well-Mannered

America's teenagers, who rarely hear themselves extolled as models of politeness, consider good manners an important asset—and most of them believe they're adequately endowed with it.

Adult grumblies are dismissed in the teenage camp with the indignant comment that carpentry growthups seem to have forgotten they were once kids themselves.

Our nationwide survey of teenagers' opinions on their own behavior showed that over half the boys, and seven out of ten of the girls questioned think of their group as well-mannered.

"It's just all that bad publicity which makes adults look down their noses at teenagers' manners," a Rego Park, N.Y., lad declared.

And a 17-year-old girl briskly counter-attacked: "Parents are the ones with bad manners. First they tell you to speak up and talk to them like equals, and then they crush you like a worm if you dare express an opinion."

CONSTIPATED?
new laxative discovery
un-locks bowel blocks
without gag, bloat or gripe

Constipation is caused by what doctors call a "thirsty" colon. A "thirsty" colon is one that, instead of retaining moisture as it should, does the opposite: robs the colon of so much moisture that its contents become dehydrated, so dry that they block the bowel; so shrunken that they fail to excite or stimulate the urge to purge that propels and expels waste from your body.

TO REGAIN NORMAL REGULARITY two things are necessary. First, the dry, shrunken contents of your colon which now block your bowel must be re-moistened. Second, bulk must be brought to your colon to S-T-R-E-T-C-H STIMULATE it and so, excite its muscles to action; to a normal urge to purge.

ONLY A BULK LAXATIVE can 1) re-moisten this dry, shrunken waste and 2) supply vital bulk to re-create a normal urge to purge. And, of all bulk laxatives, COLONAI, the amazing new laxative discovery is so effective that it relieves even chronic constipation overnight, yet is so smooth, so gentle it has been proved safe even for women in the most critical stages of pregnancy.

SUPERIOR TO OLD STYLE bulk, salt or drug laxatives, COLONAI neither gags, bloats nor gripes; does not interfere with your absorption of vitamins and other valuable food nutrients; and in clinical tests, did not cause rash or other side reactions.

IT'S A PHYSIOLOGICAL FACT! Exercise tones your body! And COLONAI exercises your colon to tone it against constipation, overnight! Whether occasional, frequent or chronic, whatever your degree of constipation, get COLONAI, in easy-to-take tablet form at any drug counter, today! The price, only 98¢ for the economical 60 tablet package, brings you positive relief at less than 2¢ per tablet.

DAR Holds Its Annual Christmas
Luncheon Party

Osage Chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution, met Saturday, Dec. 15, at the Old Missouri Homestead for its annual Christmas luncheon.

The tables were attractively decorated for the Christmas season with arrangements of spruce, red and white candles, Christmas tree balls and figures. The decorations had been loaned to the Osage Chapter by four garden club members, Mrs. P. L. Strole, Mrs. Herbert Seifert, Mrs. George Dryden and Mrs. R. V. Miller.

Invocation preceding the luncheon was given by Mrs. Strole, chaplain, and during the luncheon five Smith-Cotton High School senior girls, Nan Ferguson, Kay Carraway, Patti Moore, Barbara Mabry and Sandra Mahnken, sang several lovely Christmas carols.

A fruit cake which had been baked at the School of the Ozarks and sent to Osage Chapter as a Christmas gift was served as dessert. The girls of the school had made the cake and sent it to show their appreciation for boxes of clothing and other gifts sent to them by Osage Chapter.

Following the luncheon a short business meeting was conducted by the regent, Mrs. L. H. Hodges. The pledge of allegiance was led by Miss Nell Longan and the American Creed was led by Miss Nina Harris.

Mrs. E. F. Yancey at the piano led the group in singing the song, "White Christmas."

Mrs. Herbert Mason, program chairman, introduced Mrs. Clarence Kemper, of Clinton, state chairman of press relations and Mrs. Gus Warren of Clinton.

Mrs. Kemper, as the speaker of the afternoon, told a Christmas story, "Santa Claus Is Kindness," by Temple Bailey. This is a delightful story of a young woman who had had wealth but no real love in her life. She found love because the young man for whom she cared, but who thought her shallow and spoiled, was convinced of her depth and real worth when he found her in a tenement home giving a wonderful Christmas to a poor family.

The meeting closed by the members and guests singing two verses of "Silent Night" led by Mrs. Yancey.

Women Dress Up But Men Wear Old Suit on Holiday

BY DOROTHY ROE
Associated Press Women's Editor

Breathes there a woman who hasn't dressed to the teeth on New Year's Eve only to have the man in her life show up in an old tweed suit?

This all too frequent tragedy should constitute grounds for divorce but most women figure even a man who looks like a refugee from a rummage sale is better than no man at all. So they swallow their chagrin, keep a stiff upper lip and go out with the brutes anyway.

This year, however, things may be different. The men's formal wear industry is going to bat in behalf of America's suffering womanhood, and is making sure Pop won't forget that only a "square" wears a business suit to a formal dance.

The boys are being reminded in various ways. For instance, starting today, any man who leaves a call to be wakened in any one of some 35 leading hotels throughout the country may be startled to be roused from slumber by a cheery voice saying:

"Good morning! It's 7:30. Remember, go formal New Year's Eve!"

Any man who stops in a flower shop anywhere in the country will be greeted by the message, "Go formal New Year's Eve and buy her a corsage."

If he takes a taxicab he's likely to see a sign reading, "Go formal New Year's Eve — and take a cab."

For the next week the message will be dinned into his ears by TV commentators, department store salesmen and—of course—the little woman.

As a matter of fact, the men have been waking up to the fact that clothes make the man for some time now, as witness the zooming sales of formal male attire.

In the past 10 years sales of dinner jackets, tails and other formal accoutrements have increased 10-fold. In 1946 the total sales of men's formal clothes totaled a mere 6½ million dollars.

It Pays to Use Anhydrous Ammonia

Those contestants that used anhydrous ammonia averaged 11 bushels per acre more than those using other forms of nitrogen this year in the state-wide Missouri Farmers Association Corn Yield Contest.

A total of 94 farmers in the contest used anhydrous ammonia and averaged 120 bushels of corn to the acre. The 163 farmers that used other types of nitrogen in "shooting" for high yields averaged 109 bushels per acre.

The average application of anhydrous ammonia when used as a side-dress was 82 pounds of actual nitrogen to the acre. Fifty-eight farmers used side-dress application and their average yield was 120.47 bushels an acre.

Thirty-six farmers applied anhydrous ammonia in the fall and spring before planting at approximately the same rate and the average yield for this group was 119.73 bushels per acre. Fertilizer specialists with the MFA concluded that there is little difference between late fall and early spring applications for corn as compared with side-dress applications.

Douglas Weekly of Lamine had the highest yield in the contest. His 18-acre field was located in the Missouri River bottom and averaged 176.42 bushels to the acre. The yield was checked by Cooper County Agent John Ed Harris. Weekly not only plowed under anhydrous ammonia but followed up with a side-dress application. His soil test showed that his contest field needed no other fertilizer.

Jesse Webster, Jr., of Callao in Macon County, ranked second in the competition with an average of 175 bushels per acre. Webster has a five-year corn growing average of 163.89 per acre per year. He has used anhydrous ammonia every year.

Breaking down the results of these 94 farmers into dollars and cents figures show the extra 11 bushels of corn at $1.30 a bushel being worth $14.30 for using anhydrous ammonia as their source of nitrogen.

Officials of the MFA point out, however, that anhydrous ammonia is often not available in those sections of the state where the land is not quite as fertile to begin with. "This might account for some of the increased average yield," they admit, "but they are still convinced it offers distinct advantages to farmers anxious to grow a crib-splitting corn crop."

Clear and Warmer Weather Prevails Over Most of Nation

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Fairly cold weather and snow flurries continued in the Northeast but it was mostly clear and warmer in most other parts of the country today.

The light snow belt extended from the western part of the Great Lakes region and the northern Ohio Valley eastward into Pennsylvania and New York state. Snow flurries or rain showers sprinkled areas south of the area.

Temperatures dropped to the teens and 20s in Pennsylvania and the extreme Northeast. The chilly weather extended southward into the Southeast, including Florida. Readings were mostly in the 30s in the northeastern quarter of the country and in the 40s in other areas east of the Rockies. Biggest warming was in the Mississippi Valley and the Great Lakes region.

Tradition for Over 50 Years---

Elks Members Deliver Over 100 Baskets To Homes of Needy on Christmas Eve

Christmas Eve morning the members of the Sedalia Lodge, 125 Elks, delivered more than 100 baskets to needy people over town. The Elk's Auxiliary members assisted, too, because all Sunday afternoon they were at the Elks Home helping to fill the baskets. Everything was put in except the perishable food and that was added the next morning. The overflowing baskets were piled into the big trucks and the baskets 50 years ago were delivered by horse and wagon but times have changed — now they go by truck.

This is not a new thing for the Elks, it has been going on for over 50 years and the people of Sedalia just know that there will be a large number of families taken care of by the Elks when Christmas Eve rolls around.

Delivering Christmas to homes is a revelation to those who have never done so before. It gives them a little insight on the homes that would be without Christmas unless someone shared a bit of their own Christmas with them and it sometimes is a question of who profits most by the gifts, those who receive the material things of a basket of food or those who look in on the homes where there is so little and are grateful for their own abundance. "You just don't realize such situations exist," said one young man who helped deliver those baskets.

Two homes that stand out in the memory of some of the men who delivered baskets last year was the home where they found a mother and her four children. There was no heat in the house and it was a very cold day. The home was just as neat and clean all over as a house could be and the mother had scrubbed her kitchen floor just awhile before the men with the basket arrived. They were horrified to find the water in the little dent places and cracks in the floor frozen. The men did something else, they left the basket and then went to a coal company and ordered coal for the woman and her children.

You can't ever tell about the home with the television antenna on top, either, the Elks have found. They approached a little home where the antenna above it told them that there was a television there. There was a question in their minds but they went in with the basket anyway and inside they found an elderly couple both in wheel chairs. They had no way at all to make a living, but someone had known about them and thought a television would mean a great deal to them so had one installed for their Christmas gift.

In one home the Elks visited they found the parents and ten children all living in one room,

They left additional food for this family. And so, from home to home they went leaving Christmas baskets for a wonderful Christmas dinner, finding the same things that the men who delivered by horse and wagon found, and all the men who have delivered baskets for the Elks have found year after year, each of them taking home a bit more of the spirit of Christmas than they have had before.

The Elks, who do much charity throughout the year, feel that their Christmas tradition is the very best thing they do all year through, for in it they find the true meaning of Christmas. The town and the people receiving the gifts of food feel the same way because the Elks can always be depended on to take care of a great number of families at Christmas time.

Toll Ahead

BOULDER, Colo. (AP) — Revenue from Colorado's first modern toll road, the Denver-Boulder turnpike, has passed the two million dollar mark two years ahead of schedule.

Engineers estimated the road, opened Jan. 21, 1952, would collect two million dollars by November 1954 but revenue has already surpassed that figure.

The toll is 25 cents an automobile for the 18-mile route.

HERE ARE SPLENDID OPPORTUNITIES TO S-T-E-T-C-H THOSE CHRISTMAS GIFT DOLLARS

La Monte High, Band Present Yule Program

The La Monte high school and all school band presented their Christmas program at the school building Wednesday night, Dec. 19. The program, "What Christmas Means," was opened by the invoca-cation by Rev. Pickering. The narrator was Scotty LaDow, sophomore. Throughout the program, it was found through reading and carols, that Christmas means many things to different people, but above all, Christmas means Christ.

To end this part of the program, the chorus and audience, accompanied by the band sang, "O Come All Ye Faithful."

Specials of this part of the program were: the mixed chorus, accompanied by Irene Butler and Karin Wing; the band playing "The Christmas Song," arranged for concert band. Little four-year-old Crystal Brim and Nancy Richey sang "Rudolph, the Red Nosed Reindeer" and the always popular Schenk Sisters sang "Blue Christmas."

The second part of the program was by the Spanish class of the high school and their teacher, Mrs. Angel Rivers, who sang two Christmas carols in Spanish.

The last part of the program was the latest version of "The Night Before Christmas." This was by Scotty LaDow, several boys from the senior class and the superintendent, Alfred Brown.

The benediction was given by Rev. Parsons.

The program was under the direction of the music supervisor, Mrs. Don Zunsteg.

Simple Fruit Dessert Superb For New Year's Day Dinner

By CECILY BROWNSTONE
Associated Press Food Editor

A fruit dessert will make a superb end to a New Year's Day dinner if you coddle fresh apples and serve them with a special sauce. You will find this delectable combination is a welcome change after those holiday mince pies and plum puddings.

If you haven't time to prepare the vanilla sugar called for, use pure vanilla extract as suggested. If fresh grated coconut — wonderful as it is — is beyond us, substitute the moist thinly flaked shredded coconut now available in cans. Stewed Apples With coconut sauce.

Method: Mix vanilla sugar, water and salt in a 10-inch skillet that is at least two inches deep. Mix well and heat slowly, stirring often, to dissolve sugar; bring to a boiling point. In the meantime pare, core and cut apples into eighths. Add to boiling syrup. Cook, uncovered, until tender and transparent, turning carefully to cook uniformly. Time will depend on variety of apples. Remove apples from syrup and cool. (Reserve syrup and use for cooking another batch of apples.) Serve apples warm or chilled as dessert with coconut sauce. (Apples may also be served as meat accompaniment with pork or ham.) Makes 6 servings.

Note: Plain granulated sugar and

1/2 teaspoon pure vanilla extract may be substituted for the vanilla sugar called for.

Coconut Sauce

Ingredients: 1/4 cup vanilla sugar, 1/4 teaspoon salt, 3 eggs (slightly beaten), 2 cups milk, 1/2 cup shredded moist coconut.

Method: Mix vanilla sugar and salt together in a heavy saucepan or in the top part of a double boiler. Blend in eggs lightly with fork or whisk. Stir in 1/4 cup cold milk; heat the remaining milk and stir gradually into mixture. Cook and stir constantly over very low heat or over hot (not boiling) water until the custard coats a metal spoon. Remove from heat. Add coconut; cool. Serve with stewed apples. Makes 2 1/4 cups. This sauce may also be used over sliced bananas and oranges.

Note: Plain granulated sugar and one teaspoon pure vanilla extract may be substituted for the vanilla sugar called for.

Vanilla Sugar

Ingredients: Split 2 vanilla beans down the center. Place in a tightly covered canister containing 5 pounds granulated sugar. Store for at least 2 weeks before using so sugar will pick up the essence of the vanilla bean. Add additional sugar to the canister as the vanilla sugar is used. Use the vanilla sugar in fruit desserts, fruit compotes, cakes, cookies and over cereal.

Dickens Story Not Suited To TV Musical

By CHARLES MERCER

NEW YORK (AP) — Now that Christmas is over and there's not much to look forward to until next Christmas, what lessons did we learn this year that might be taken to heart a year hence? Here's one:

If you're tempted to do a musical version of "A Christmas Carol" by Charles Dickens, the advice from this corner is: Don't. It just doesn't work. Or at least it didn't work very well when Alcoa Hour (NBC-TV) presented "The Stingiest Man in Town."

It's mighty difficult to destroy a Dickens story. The old craftsman was too good a story teller for anyone to obliterate him completely. In her book and lyrics for "The Stingiest Man in Town" Janice Torre was as faithful as possible to the Dickens story.

But in making room for a dozen songs, the characters emerged as flat caricatures — most notably in the case of Scrooge himself. Basil Rathbone, one of the most accomplished of actors, was crowded into a corner by too much music. His Scrooge was not the person Dickens had in mind.

All this might have been very well if Fred Spielberg's music had been more distinguished. It was pleasant, but not arresting enough to warrant the thinning down of characterization in the original story.

While "The Stingiest Man in Town" made 90 minutes of mildly pleasant viewing, it did not appear worthy of all its advance fanfare and drum-beating. True, it was "different," but it raised the question of just how worthwhile it is for a program to be merely "different."

Each Christmas there are many productions of "A Christmas Carol" on television and radio. After 100 years it is still the best story of the seasonal spirit. And it is still most entertaining when it follows the original story most closely.

Progressive Club Has Talk by Local Airman

The Knob Noster Progressive Club met Tuesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Merle Matthews, with Sgt. Lloyd Smith and A/2c Patterson, Whiteman AFB, as guests.

Sgt. Smith talked on "An Airman in Africa," showing souvenirs he collected while in Africa.

A letter from the club's absentee member, Mrs. Danny Holt, Stephenville, Newfoundland, was read by Mrs. Charles Covey, president. Holly, candies and evergreens decorated the rooms. Mrs. Matthews served refreshments.

Mrs. W. Porter Murray will be the January hostess. Mrs. Charles Covey will discuss "Composers of Music."

The WWP Class of the Windsor Methodist Church enjoyed its annual Christmas party Thursday night in Wesley Hall of the church. There were 17 members and eight visitors present.

After a turkey dinner, the president, Mrs. S. R. Johnson called the meeting to order. Mrs. Emma Morgan gave the devotional and Mrs. Sadler offered prayer. Mrs. Edgar Bumpas gave an interesting talk on "Joy of Christmas." Members exchanged gifts.

Gail Comfort Arrives At Iceland Airport

Gail E. Comfort, A/3c, son of Luther Comfort, LaMonte, arrived at Keflavik International Airport, Iceland, for assignment to the Iceland Air Defense Force.

The Iceland Air Defense Force (a Military Air Transport Service organization) is responsible for the air defense of Iceland, mid-ocean support for commercial and military aircraft of many nations, and the maintenance of facilities for U. S. Army and Navy units also on duty at this NATO base.

Have Monthly Party

Mrs. Clinton Lowrey's Sunday School Class had its monthly party at the church Wednesday, Dec. 12. Those present were: Mr. and Mrs. Lowrey, Rev. and Mrs. Harold Spiva, Mrs. Ray Fluty, Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Dawson and two children, Mrs. James Wernke and Jimmy, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Hayworth, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Hayworth, Mrs. Harry Baker and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Guy Messer and Mr. and Mrs. Douglas Messer and two children, Mr. and Mrs. Warner Biggs, Mr. and Mrs. John Powers. Mrs. Biggs was game leader and a number of games were enjoyed. Gifts were exchanged after which refreshments were served.

Fidelis Class Meets

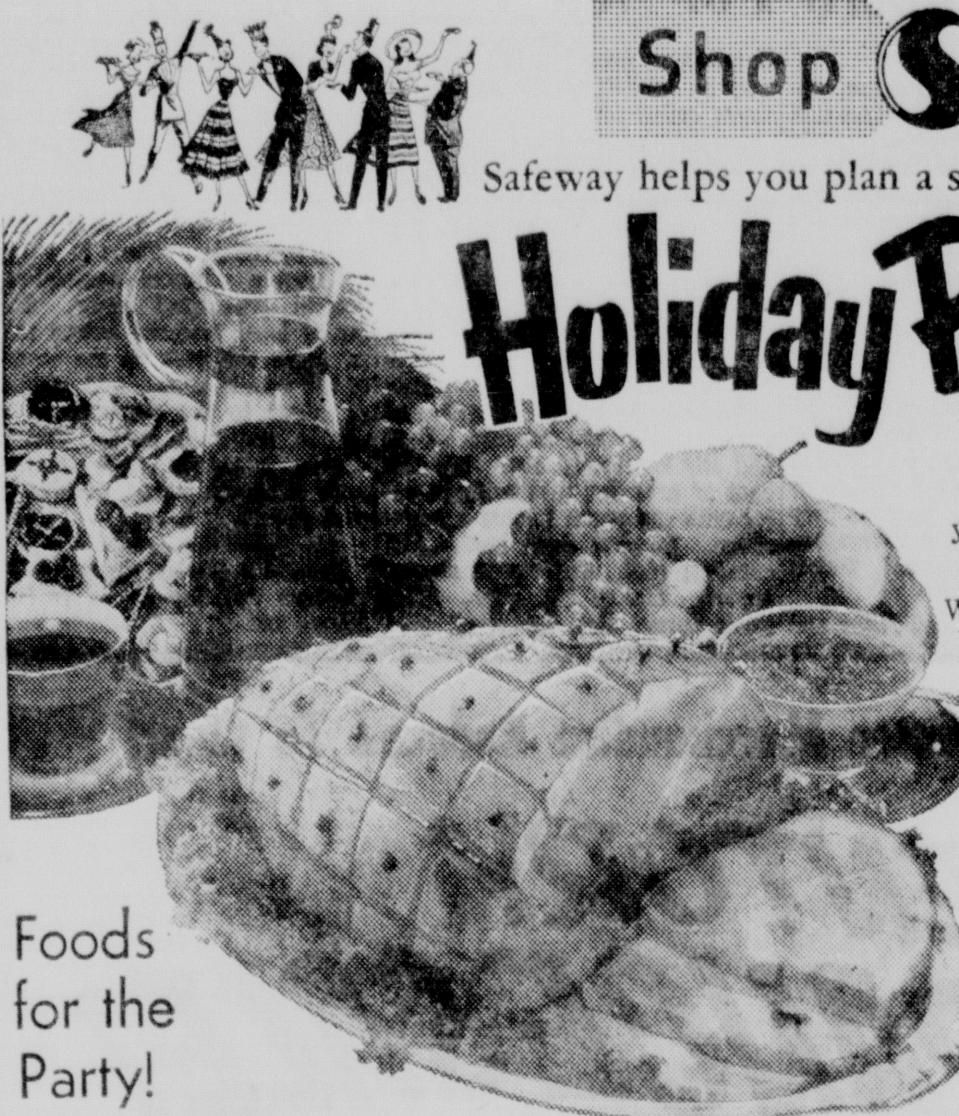

The Fidelis Circle of the Houston Community Church met Thursday with Mrs. Nathan Harris with nine present. A sack lunch was enjoyed at noon. Mrs. John Rissler gave the Christmas story and Mrs. John Tolson the scripture. The day was spent making a quilt.

Start off the New Year with a new-old recipe. It's elegant to serve to friends on New Year's Eve, and to use for other evening parties and afternoon-coffees the whole year through.

Children at Day Nursery Have Christmas Party

The children of the Melita Day Nursery had a big time Friday afternoon when they presented their Christmas program for their parents and members of the board. The program was followed by a gift exchange after which old Santa himself appeared with gifts for the youngsters.

Throughout the month of December, Mrs. Lucy Rabourn, superintendent, said, people have been leaving things at the nursery for the enjoyment of the children. Those contributing were the Rotary Club, Mr. Kindle, Mrs. Carson, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Truman, Mrs. John Martin, Mr. and Mrs. Charles P. Brown, Brownie Troop No. 6; H. S. Forrest, Town and Country office girls, Beth El Sisterhood, Mrs. Rush, Jack McClosey, Archias Seed Store, Business and Professional Women's Club, Carl Schrader, Broadway Presbyterian Church Primary Department, Knights of Columbus, Missouri Pacific Women's Club, Smith-Cotton High School; Striped College 4-H Club, Mrs. P. Prairie Ridge Club Has Meeting, Program

The Prairie Ridge Extension Club met at the home of Mrs. Glen Karrick and Dickie of the home and Mrs. Jackson Karrick, Dec. 20, for its annual Christmas party with 22 members, six children and four visitors, present. Visitors were Miss Rosalee Kanoy, Warrensburg.

Gregory led group singing.

Mrs. J. O. Coffelt gave the roll call and read the minutes of the last meeting. The news letter was read by Mrs. Wilbren Hayes. Mrs. Irvin Robb gave a report on the county council meeting. A donation was made to the Crippled Children's Center.

The next meeting will be with Mrs. B. W. Wiley, Jan. 23, with a health lesson. Roll call will be "How to Entertain Sick Children."

The secret pal gifts were distributed and new names drawn.

Making Room For Hungarians

It has been said that the President and Congress could well consider how provision might be made in 1957 for entry into the United States of substantial additional numbers from among the refugee Hungarian freedom fighters. At present our laws prevent us from taking more than 21,500 of the 135,000 who thus far have fled their homeland.

A fellow worker suggests this should not be such a problem. Additions to the Hungarian quota could be based on the number of American automobile drivers who sacrifice their lives on the highways. During 102 hours of the Christmas holiday period over 700 made room. If that rate continues the entire Hungarian quota can be absorbed.

A dozen persons were made ill of food poisoning at a luncheon affair recently. Responsibility for this unfortunate occurrence was attributed by investigators to a sneezer who spread fast-multiplying bacteria over food in uncovered dishes.

This signifies that there is promotion possibilities for the January white sales next month to include handkerchiefs, and for education of people to use them when they feel a sneeze or a cough coming on.

Some persons think a handkerchief is only for a pocket decoration or to wipe the gravy off their tie.

Washington Merry-Go-Round--

Nehru Impressed With Ike's Peace Goals

By DREW PEARSON

WASHINGTON.—Details of the tremendously important Eisenhower-Nehru conversations are now beginning to leak.

State Department officials have been a bit worried over the possibility that conflicting versions of the talks will plague them in the future. For no third party was present, no stenographer took notes. The two men were alone for large parts of about 18 hours.

However, the President called in a stenographer after the talks and dictated at length his recollection of the conference.

It can be stated from those who talked to both men that the following general impressions were scored:

1. Nehru became convinced that Eisenhower was not merely a military man interested in polishing his medals. He found the President sincerely devoted to peace, a man not likely to be pushed by trigger-happy generals into atomic war.

2. Eisenhower in turn was impressed with Nehru's realism. Contrary to reports that Nehru was an impractical mystic, he found him a practical, realistic leader.

Unlike many other foreign visitors, Nehru did not ask for American aid. The President gave him several opportunities. He knew India desperately needs funds for its new five-year plan. But Nehru preferred to talk about what the United States and India can do to promote peace with Russia and Red China.

Vice President Chiang??

There was no agreement about China. But Nehru revealed that Premier Chou En-Lai had informed him just before leaving for Washington that Chiang Kai-Shek could be made Vice-President in the Red Chinese government if he would make peace with the Red regime. Chiang was the first Chinese leader to warn up to Russia back in 1925 and once used the famed Communist Borodin to train Chiang's Whampoa cadets. So it's been inferred he could now switch back to his old friends.)

Nehru said he was convinced Red China wanted to negotiate a firm peace that would enable all the Chinese to work together. Nehru also emphasized in eloquent language his conviction that the problem of China must be solved.

The President was sympathetic but made no commitments. He indicated that Chiang Kai-Shek would have to decide his own future. The position of the United States has been that China would have to liberate all American prisoners and give a pledge not to use force against Formosa. Eisenhower did not deviate from this position.

In diplomatic language Eisenhower complained about the grand standing Indian diplomat Krishna Menon. Ike indicated that Menon seemed to be more a spokesman for Moscow than for the United Nations than for India. Nehru did not reply directly. He did remark rather pointedly that part of the difficulty in Indian-American relations had been that spokesmen for each country failed to explain policies properly.

Ike Would Ban H-Bomb

One part of the conversation which especially pleased Nehru pertained to disarmament. Eisenhower promised that during his second term in the White House his greatest goal would be a disarmament agreement with Russia to end the terrible threat of atomic-hydrogen warfare.

He gave the Indian Prime Minister a preview of the proposals he planned to make to Premier Bulganin to ban guided missiles as well as atomic bombs.

Nehru seemed greatly impressed. He told Eisenhower that the new rulers of the Kremlin are deathly afraid of a new war and genuinely want disarmament.

One point which Nehru emphasized was that the United States must not get discouraged in its negotiations with Russia. He kept coming back to this over and over again. Stalinism, he said, is now dead in the Soviet Union. Each day that passes will make the new Kremlin leaders more reasonable because of the very important fact that the people of Russia are demanding a better life.

Fruitful Talks

In the opinion of this observer, the Nehru-

Guest Editorial--

COLUMBUS (Ohio) DISPATCH: Old Art Revived. An increase in church remodeling and construction in all sections of the U. S. is causing a new demand for stained glass windows...

Artists working with colored glass and dull lead are bringing new life to this centuries-old art form.

A boom in church building throughout the nation has aroused a heavy demand for such paintings with the aid of light. The stained glass is used to complement both the stone tracery of traditional architecture and the more acceptable broad harmonies of some modern designs.

A survey by the National Geographic society revealed that today painstaking handwork is as important in creating stained glass windows as it was when monks fashioned the windows of Chartres cathedral in France, Canterbury cathedral in England and other similar great structures.

Eisenhower conversations of approximately 18 hours, accomplished far more than the thirty-day tour of the U. S. A. on which Nehru was conducted by ex-Secretary of Defense Louey Johnson during the Truman administration. Johnson, who worked hard and sincerely to sell Nehru on the U. S., did not realize that the Indian leader wasn't particularly interested in meeting railroad tycoons and big business executives, or in seeing the tall buildings and natural wonders of the United States.

He was interested in getting to know the man at the helm of the United States.

Eisenhower understood this. He also was shrewd enough to keep John Foster Dulles and Vice President Nixon, whom Nehru does not like, out of the picture. Neither was present during the Gettysburg conversations. Dulles called on Nehru after he first arrived and Nehru returned the call just before he left. Nixon gave a luncheon for Nehru, but at the luncheon Nehru hardly opened his mouth on anything important.

Dulles had once aroused Indian wrath with his statement championing Portugal's right to the colony Goa, on the Indian coast, also by a statement appearing to side with Pakistan in the dispute with India over Kashmir.

Nixon got in wrong with Nehru when Nehru, accepting aid from Moscow for a steel mill remarked, "Of course there are no strings attached."

Nixon promptly fired back: "Russia doesn't offer aid with a string, but with a rope."

Is Ike A Neutralist?

One factor which helped the Nehru-Eisenhower conversations was the statement the President made one day before his ileitis attack last June expressing sympathy with the neutrality of India and other Asian neutralists. His statement caused a furor in Pakistan, the Philippines, Germany, and other non-neutral nations which have signed definite pacts to fight alongside the United States. The Philippine government asked for a formal explanation and the German ambassador expressed the concern of his government.

As a result, the State Department issued a "Clarifying" statement next day, in effect correcting the President of the United States.

However, as Eisenhower remarked publicly last June, the United States itself was once neutral. And in his talks with Nehru, he seemed to reflect a strong, personal sympathy with neutrality.

Sardonic Switch

If there is anything that deserves to be laughed right off the face of the earth, it is Moscow daring to utter a single word about anybody else's alleged atrocities.

The word is that Pravda, which might be called the Moscow Daily Fantasy, is trying to frighten people in Hungary with stories of reported atrocities against Hungarian folk who have fled to Austria.

Of course we all understand the purpose: to stem the flow. But what is so amazing is that the Kremlin imagines anyone would take its word on the matter of cruelty to other humans.

Here is a ruthless band of autocrats who have bombed, shelled and gunned innocent Hungarians to their deaths whether they were in their homes, in hospitals, in the streets, or racing through fields toward freedom.

They have deported thousands to Russia to kill or impress in slave labor. They have starved many, spread false rumors among the populace of polio epidemics, issued fake reports of coming American aid to discredit Radio Free Europe.

Nothing a fraction of their cruelties. If they could match even a fraction of their cruelties. If they could want to talk atrocities, let the Russians speak of their own. They've written a book.

Welcome, Japan

Highly welcomed is the U. N.'s unanimous approval of the admission of Japan into the ever-widening circle.

The action was made possible when Russia withdrew its objection, after having four times vetoed Japan's entry in recent years. The Soviet change of heart evidently is related to a Kremlin aim of improving Russo-Japanese relations. A dozen years after World War II Russia finally has signed a peace treaty with Japan.

However Russia and Japan may now benefit from this change in the Far East, the United States and other free peoples generally will be the principal beneficiaries in the U. N. and world councils.

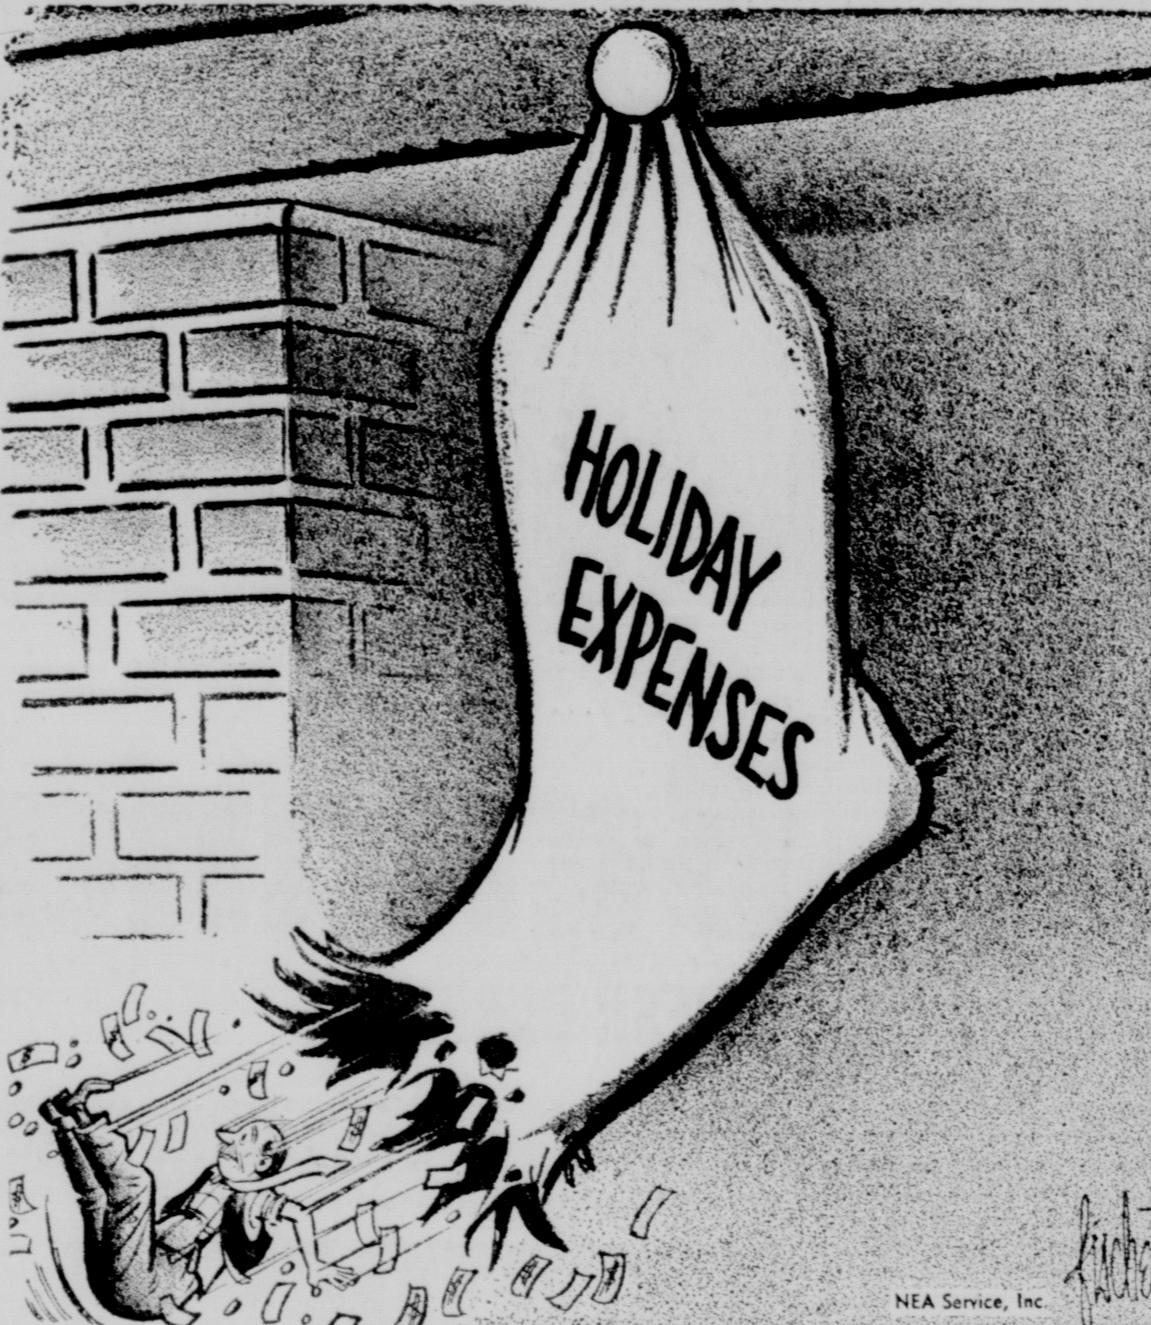

The Japanese are firmly tied to the West in the struggle against communism. It will be of immeasurable value to the cause of freedom to have this important voice added to the free side in the tests of strength which lie ahead.

Nasser May Yet Make a Fool of the UN

By JAMES MARLOW

Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP) — United Nations prestige leaped upward with its success in Egypt, then sagged with its ineffectiveness in Hungary. The U.N. may yet be made a fool of by Egypt's President Nasser.

The U.N. — led by the United States and Russia — saved Nasser's skin by pressuring the British, French and Israelis into ceasing their attack on Egypt and withdrawing from the Suez Canal zone.

Nasser is developing a pattern of laying down conditions under which he'll do business one at a time. When he gets what he wants on one, he imposes another.

The result: The Suez Canal is still closed to world traffic almost two months after the attack on Egypt ended. When Nasser will let work start to clear it of sunken ships no one can be sure. Nor is there any end in sight to his demands.

Some of the demands he made for letting Suez clearance work start can be justified — and have been backed by U.N. Secretary General Hammarskjold — on the ground that Egypt is a sovereign country and must not be pressured from outside.

He won his way on these demands: The British and French must have to clear out of the canal area before he would let Looking Backward...

TWENTY-FIVE YEARS AGO

George Luckett, former Sedalian, stationed the past two years at the U. S. Navy Air Base, San Diego, Calif., as an instructor, was here en route to Wayland, Mo., for a visit with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. T. R. Luckett. He was given instructions to report to the Naval Training School, Annapolis, Md.

On Oct. 12 the British, French and Egyptian foreign ministers accepted the principles as a basis for negotiation.

Early in October, almost a month before the attack on Egypt began, the U.N. Security Council agreed on six principles as a basis for negotiating a Suez settlement.

On Oct. 12 the British, French and Egyptian foreign ministers accepted the principles as a basis for negotiation.

Another proposal was made to him in September, a vague and toothless proposal. He turned that down too.

Likewise the gifts of the Magi and the shepherds were from their own possessions. These folks gave the things which they thought were valuable.

Those who gave gifts to us made them according to their good judgment. It might be well to consider the giver before we return the gifts we received.

A FORMER SEDALIAN who recently retired and came back to Sedalia to live walked into the Chamber of Commerce office a few days ago and announced he Yesterday an authoritative Egyptian source said Egypt will not negotiate with Britain and France, which attacked her, but only with the U.N. Thus Nasser throws the problem back to the U.N. to start all over. More time used up.

What can the world organization do if in the end Nasser ignores its proposals? Perhaps no more than it did when the Russians slaughtered the Hungarians.

The U.N. condemned the Russians. The Russians ignored the U.N. and are still in Hungary. The U.N. sits powerless to do anything.

Thinking It Over

By Robert L. Dieffenbacher, D.D.S.

The stores were filled yesterday with people who were returning Christmas gifts for credit, or for different sizes, styles or colors. We did not select the gifts which were given to us.

Here and there some very practical person asked the receiver to make his own selection. Most of our gift selections were based on our own taste and consideration for the taste of others.

As we look back on the first Christmas it is interesting to note that God's gift to men was based on need. It was not determined by man's desires.

Likewise the gifts of the Magi and the shepherds were from their own possessions. These folks gave the things which they thought were valuable.

Those who gave gifts to us made them according to their good judgment. It might be well to consider the giver before we return the gifts we received.

There is some debate as to whether kleptomania is a comparatively simple behavior problem or the sign of true mental disorder.

I certainly am not qualified to express a strong opinion on this subject, but it does seem that some children who exhibit kleptomania do so because of some deep-seated unhappiness or maladjustment. Perhaps it would not have occurred if they were happier in their family or school lives.

It is also my impression that children with kleptomania (and quite possibly grownups), are usually more of a problem for the psychiatrist than they are for the psychologist. I should be interested to know more about what effect, if any, judicial punishment has on kleptomania.

While some phobias may be more or less amusing to others they are never amusing to the victim himself.

Some of them appear to be symptoms of true mental disease and the aid of a psychiatrist may be needed. Indeed a psychiatrist may help many of those with obsessions to at least live with their difficulty.

A closely related condition which seems to be rather common is known as kleptomania, or the desire to steal. The kleptomaniac often does not know why or he behaves that way and whether it is an excuse or explanation often says, "I just can't help it."

New Control for Arthritis—

Acceptance, Like Discovery, Requires Time and Patience

By Esther Van Wagoner Tufty

Of Our Washington Bureau

WASHINGTON—In an interview with four doctors, said to have a cure for arthritis (they say "control"), it was obvious that to gain acceptance of a remedy takes as much time and patience as discovering the drug.

Dedicated Dr. W. W. Harper and Dr. H. G. Henry have a little hospital at Au Gres, Michigan, which could become a mecca for the 15 million arthritics in the United States, if their new non-toxic drug, Acutalyin, is as effective as these two doctors believe, based on three years of clinical research. With Dr. J. P. Calvird of Custer, South Dakota, on the Advisory Council of the State Board of Health, and Dr. W. G. Irons of San Francisco, they have given 12,000 intravenous injections to patients, from one to 95 years of age, and the treatment "has been successful in more than 90 per cent of all cases."

How many doses necessary? "About four to eight in a period of 10 days."

Will it be expensive? "Cost to doctors will be under $50."

Congressman Elford Cederberg of Bay City is helping the Michigan doctors expedite their application for approval through the Pure Food and Drug Administration. On the Senate side, Senator Carl Mundt is doing the same for Dr. Calvird of Custer, South Dakota.

This week, these four doctors held a press conference, a rather unusual one for political Washington.

Is it safe? "Absolutely."

Season For Swiss Cheese
We are told more Swiss Cheese is sold during the two weeks around Christmas and New Years than any other two weeks during the year. It is one of the major traditional foods for entertaining and holiday meals. It shares the limelight with Blue Cheeses, for they too gain importance at this season.

Swiss Cheese is a wonderful buy since it's 100 per cent edible and full of nutrition. From a pound you have a pound to serve.

There is approximately the same protein in a pound of Natural Swiss Cheese as found in three quarts of milk.

Domestic Natural Swiss is less expensive and is now perfected to the same nutlike flavor, texture, and quality as the imported Swiss which is more costly.

Swiss Cheese Pie (Main Dish)

1/2 pound Natural Swiss Cheese

1 tablespoon flour

3 eggs, beaten

Few grains salt and pepper

1 cup milk or cream

Onion juice if desired

Prepare standard pie crust and line a 9-inch pan. Toss cheese and flour together and spread evenly over bottom of pie. Mix rest of ingredients and pour over cheese. Bake in hot oven 400 degrees F. for 15 minutes. Reduce temperature to 325 degrees F. and bake 30 minutes longer or until a knife inserted near center comes out clean. Serve hot.

Swiss Nuggets

1/2 cup grated Natural Swiss Cheese

1/2 cup minced ham

1/2 teaspoon prepared mustard

1 egg yolk

1/4 teaspoon salt and dash of pepper

Shape into small balls

Roll in minced chives or in parsley

Chill. Serve on toothpicks.

File Important Family Papers

A file to hold all important family papers is a valuable addition to any home business center.

The file may be a cabinet, box, or folder that holds labeled folder or envelopes in alphabetical order.

A few suggested folder headings are: accounts, insurance, receipts, tax information, health, equipment, etc.

A good suggestion is to have a current file for materials you are now using and another file for material not used all the time.

Cigar Box Radios

ATLANTIC CITY, N.J. (AP)—Engineers here have successfully tested a new lightweight mobile radio transmitting and receiving set the size of a cigar box. It has an operating range of 30 miles.

Nautilus Club Hears Talks on Adoption

The Nautilus Club of LaMonte met at the home of Mrs. Ruth Burke for its December meeting. The meeting was opened by singing a carol.

Two interesting speakers were introduced by Mrs. J. E. Wheeler, American home children, with the topic of "Foster Parents."

Mrs. Killingsworth, Children's Welfare office, Sedalia, gave a talk divided into four parts, protective care, unmarried mothers, foster care and adoptive care. Her talk was informative.

Mrs. George Mehan was introduced and talked on the experiences she and her husband have had adopting children. They have one boy 6½ years old, and this past summer took a ten year old boy from Greece. They met the boy in New York where he arrived by plane with other children coming to the United States. She told of their experiences in New York and at home. Sammy is now attending school at LaMonte, and is learning a new language. He is becoming adjusted readily to the new family.

KJU Class Holds Yule Program and Meeting

The December meeting of the KJU Sunday School Class of the LaMonte Christian Church was held Wednesday afternoon, Dec. 19, at the home of Miss Endi Johnson.

The meeting opened at 1:30 with Mrs. Ida Fredrich presiding. A song, "Oh, Come All Ye Faithful," was played on phonograph, before the Christmas story was read by Mrs. Ruth Price. Mrs. E. D. Guthrie offered the opening prayer.

After a short business meeting, in which secret pals were drawn for next year, the program was turned over to Mrs. Roy Alexander.

Mrs. William H. Guenther, and Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Greenhalge, Marshall, On Thursday of this week they will celebrate Randise's 14th birthday in the Guenther home.

Mr. and Mrs. Finis Nicholas, 12th and Marshall, spent Monday and Tuesday in Kansas City with relatives and friends.

Entertain Guests

Mr. and Mrs. Albert Luebbert and son, Concordia, entertained guests Tuesday in honor of their birthdays which were on the 19th and 20th. Those present were Mr.

and Mrs. Delmar Borgstadt, Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Borgstadt and family, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Bertram, Mr. and Mrs. Mike Vaughn and Mr. and Mrs. H. W. Paul. Refreshments were served.

Sunshine Class Meets

The Sunshine Class held its annual Christmas party at the home of Mrs. Golder Lugin, Smithton. Mrs. Ben Mahken conducted the meeting. Mrs. Edward Jeagen, Mrs. Golder Lugin, Mrs. Vernon Monsees and Mrs. J. J. Samm assisted.

A poem was read by Mrs. Edward Jeager. Mrs. Lugin read a Christmas article, before carols were sung.

The class sent $2 for a CARE package. A contributive dinner was enjoyed.

Mrs. Homer Know, state of California and Mrs. Dixon, Smithton, were guests.

Gifts were exchanged.

Doggone Trouble

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP)—The telephone company trouble shooter was puzzled after Mrs. J. R. Jones told him:

"We never leave the receiver off the hook. We never answer any ring on the party line but our own."

The telephone rang. Into the room bounded Lindy, the family's sheep dog. With a sweep of his paw, Lindy knocked the phone from its stand, the receiver flying to the end of the cord.

There's no more trouble — the phone is now out of Lindy's barking reach.

Season's Top Team Match On Mat Card

The season's greatest tag team wrestling match involving four of the nation's most outstanding heavyweights will take the featured spotlight on the special New Year's day mat program scheduled for next Tuesday in the Sedalia Armory.

Bob Orton, called pro wrestling's most ruthless competitor, has joined forces with Joe Dusek, the Omaha wrecking crew leader, and they have jointly challenged the all-Missouri team, composed of Sonny Myers and Larry Hamilton, for a showdown.

Myers, serving as the Missouri team captain, quickly accepted the Orton-Dusek challenge. "Larry and I are not afraid of any team in the country and Dusek and Orton certainly don't frighten us," Myers told Legion Matchmaker Gust Karras.

"The contracts are now signed and the rugged tag team battle is ready for the Sedalia ring," Karras announced. "It's sure to be one of the most outstanding attractions ever brought to Sedalia and it's just the thing to provide thrills aplenty for the special holiday card."

Karras said the starting time for Tuesday night's holiday matches will remain at the customary 8:15. "New Year's day has always remained a great day for sporting events. Folks always like to get out in the evening after their big holiday dinner."

Orton's complete change to a ruthless brawler is certain to surprise many fans here. The 6-foot 4-inch, 240-pound Kansan rocked the Texas reigns with his roughhousing during the fall campaign and Orton reigns today as the Southwestern states champion. He rolled up 46 consecutive victories in his unconquered march to the title throne. The Lone Star state, birthplace of Texas rules brand of rough wrestling, was stunned by Orton's viciousness in the ring. Many Texas promoters now call Orton the most ruthless wrestler to hit the Texas rings since the heyday of Cowboy Roy Graham.

Myers and Hamilton have skyrocketed to the top popularity spot since forming the first all-Missouri wrestling team in more than a decade. Their fast-paced strategy makes them a formidable duo capable of coping with any type of attack attempted by their opponents. Hamilton has also gained nationwide attention for his bald singing and original compositions. He's being called the "Elvis Presley of wrestling."

Two of America's leading girl wrestlers — Lorraine (Tigress) Johnson and Ada Ash—will resume their heated rivalry when they collide in next Tuesday's semi-windup match. Lorraine claims the regional championship, a fact which has aroused Ada's ire. They will settle the issue in their best-of-three falls clash which is certain to develop into the most rugged feminine mat contest witnessed here in recent months.

The heavyweight team captains — Myers and Orton will come to grips in an individual showdown to open the big New Year's holiday card.

Tickets for next Tuesday's matches are now on sale at the Pacific Cafe and the Midway Shoe Repair shop.

Willie Pastrano Not Quite Ready for Title Bout With Patterson

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP)—Willie Pastrano, speedy young contender for Floyd Patterson's heavyweight boxing title, is among the first to admit he isn't quite ready to take on the champ.

"I'd like to have a few more fights before I tackle Patterson," the 20-year-old jab and dance artist commented after lining a unanimous decision over Charley Norkus last night in Miami Beach Auditorium.

Pastrano, ranked No. 3 among the title contenders, injured a knuckle on his right hand in a bout with Pat McMurtry in October and his bout with Norkus was the first test since.

The Aussies made the big move in the 11th game and broke Giannimalva, that was the break of the match, because they held their own in the 12th and won the set.

They broke Giannimalva in the second game, Seixas in the fourth and Giannimalva again in the sixth. It was that fast. After winning the first game, the Americans were blocked.

Still, that made it even, one set apiece. Seixas and Giannimalva were in no mood to let up and again in the third set, they made the first service break. Again, however, they couldn't make it stand up.

They smashed through Rosewall in the fourth game, only to have the Aussies come right back in the fifth game and take Seixas' service.

Pettit's surge from third place boosted his season's point total to 672. He is averaging 25.8 a game.

Paul Arizin of Philadelphia dropped to second place with 646 points while Clyde Lovellette of Minneapolis advanced to third with 639.

Pettit shared honors with Bill Sharman of the Boston Celtics last week. Sharman bettered his own record by connecting on 52 free throws without a miss. The skein still is unbroken. The old mark was 50.

Kansas City Auto Plant to Make Move

KANSAS CITY (AP)—The automobile industry's first branch assembly line outside Detroit will start closing down tomorrow for a 12-mile move. The 2,200 employees will lose no more than 24 hours of production time.

Tucker Death Ends Hope for New Auto

YPSILANTI, Mich. (AP)—Preston Tucker, 53, whose plans to revolutionize auto making raised hopes and heartaches, died at a hospital here yesterday.

A native of Epapac, Mich., Tucker entered the hospital about three weeks ago suffering from cancer. He was stricken with pneumonia shortly before his death.

The officer was en route home yesterday when he spotted a bear near a private swimming pool. Stopping his car, Smith drew his service revolver as he got out. He stumbled, discharging the pistol.

The shot pierced Smith's left leg and he is in a hospital. The bear, said the officer, just ambled off into the hills.

Aussies Hoed, Rosewall Win The Davis Cup

ADELAIDE, Australia (AP)—Stunned and staggered at the outset, Ken Rosewall and Lew Hoad pulled themselves together to win the Davis Cup for Australia today by defeating a U. S. "pickup" team of Vic Seixas and Bill Giannimalva 1-6, 6-1, 7-5, 6-4.

The doubles victory gave the Aussies 3-0 lead in the best-of-five competition and assures the coveted cup — symbol of world tennis supremacy—staying Down Under another year. Tomorrow's two final single matches will be nothing more than exhibitions.

Seixas is scheduled to play Hoad and Herbie Flam is paired with Rosewall. However, Captains Harry Hopman of Australia and Bill Talbert of the United States probably will change the lineups and Orton reigns today as the Southwestern states champion. New Actor Has Odd Name, Natural Style

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — No wonder Anthony Franciosa is destined for stardom. He went to two of the best schools for an actor: hard knocks and the Actor's Studio.

Franciosa is one of those new actors with natural acting styles and unusual names. He's 28 and tall, with the handsomeness and charm of his Italian ancestry.

That he will be a star, there can be no doubt. He hit the Broadway lights with Shelley Winters in "A Hatful of Rain," and that started the Hollywood offers. Hal Wallis, who brought Burt Lancaster, Kirk Douglas and others from the stage to screen, signed Tony for a picture a year.

MGM wanted him to star in "The Vintage." But he passed up the coin and a European trip to work for Elia Kazan in "A Face in the Crowd" for less money and a smaller role. Tony realized the value of working for Kazan.

Now he's appearing with Jean Simmons and Paul Douglas in "This Could Be the Night." Twentieth-Fox wants him to repeat his role in "A Hatful of Rain" and both studios are seeking multi-picture deals with him.

Not bad for a guy who was working in a cafeteria here five years ago.

Tony had decided at 18 he wanted to be an actor and he took private coaching for a year and a half in his native New York City. But he had no luck getting roles and bounced around for years as a waiter, dishwasher, awning installer, welder, printer's helper, etc.

Three years ago, he enrolled at the Actor's Studio, and his career began to take off. Watch this boy.

The Willing Workers Class of the Windsor Methodist Church held its annual turkey dinner in Wesley Hall of the church Friday evening. Every member of the class except one, Mrs. Maude Vogel, was present.

Invited guests were the Rev. and Mrs. E. F. Dillon, Mr. and Mrs. L. T. Hoback, Lloyd Port and John, Mr. and Mrs. N. J. Wilker, Son, Mr. and Mrs. Beverly VanSlyke and Stephen, Mrs. VanSlyke and Mrs. Sterling Douglas.

John Port gave a reading, "Let's Keep Christmas" by Peter Marshall.

Santa Clau came with a pack of gifts and presented the ladies with gifts of needlework done by their teacher, Mrs. Lloyd Port, and the men handkerchiefs.

A gift was given to the teacher and the class president, Mrs. Venetia VanSlyke.

Mr. Hoback showed slides of Bible scenes of 2000 years ago.

US Army Has New Electronic Ordering System for Supply

STUTTGART, Germany (AP) — The U.S. Army is getting so streamlined that even the nuts and bolts that keep its equipment together are being supplied electronically. It's all part of Project Mass and the top brass at 7th Army headquarters here report that the pioneer work done so far has just about proved the efficiency of the new electronic supply system.

Mass stands for "Modern Army Supply System," and it's just that. Every item the Army uses can now be ordered by electronic brains spitting out cards filled with tell-tale holes.

Sgt. Joe Doakes at a forward

Army post in Germany can order a spare part for a truck or howitzer all the way from the United States and have it in hand in a couple of days.

Project Mass has not yet been made routine for the whole army. But 7th Army officials predict that the current elaborate testing program will convince the Pentagon to put it into force all over the world.

The experimental project has been under way here since last July. Its action officer, Maj. Harold Maier of Lansing, Mich., says, "We have made tremendous progress."

"Our supply system was really a mess," said Martin Tieman of George Washington University, one of the top civilian officials of Project Mass.

"We had half a million items scattered all over the place. A lot of them had no supply numbers and there were plenty that hadn't even been catalogued," he said.

So the nut and bolt roundup began. In half a year most of these items have been located, tagged and numbered.

"Our goal is to keep about 40,000 items on hand in mobile supply units in Europe," Tieman said. "That represents about 85 per cent of the Army's needs."

The remaining 15 per cent can be ordered directly from the United States.

One of the major reasons for Project Mass was fear that atomic strikes could swiftly wipe out the many bulky supply depots the Army has been maintaining in Germany and France.

The plan is to cut the number of European depots to no more than five and increase the number of mobile "direct supply units" to about 100.

The latter stock the replacement parts most in demand. The depots, also being put on wheels, stock important items not so frequently needed.

Bigger, slower moving items are handled directly from the United States — either by ship or plane.

Radio runs it all. In the stock control center at Stuttgart, soldiers man a series of electronic

"transceivers" which take orders on cards and place calls within seconds.

Each depot and direct supply unit has its own transceivers. So does supply headquarters in New York.

"In modern warfare," Maier said, "troops must move quickly, mass for an attack and then disperse. There isn't any room for old-fashioned supply units. They wouldn't last very long in an atomic war."

In the past ships carried replacement parts from the United States to Germany in an unending stream. Under Project Mass, no equipment moves unless it is ordered special or unless the electronic brains find out the European depots have fallen below required replacement supply. Then it comes automatically. Formerly, it took 120-180 days to replenish supplies from the States.

Feelin' thirsty? Have a GOETZ! Wet 'n Wonderful!
Otterville Legion Has Program for Children
The American Legion Hall at Otterville had a capacity crowd attending the Christmas program presented by Legion and Auxiliary children.
Several Christmas selections were played by Mrs. Walter E. Castle before the meeting was opened by Post Commander, Roy L. Armstrong.
Diane Aldredge, Sherry and Sue Glenn, a trio, sang a number before Alan Phillips gave a recitation.
Alan Castle played a piano solo, and Sandra Glenn sang a vocal solo. Mrs. J. H. Parsons told an interesting story, "The Little New Bell." Janie Speaker played a piano solo.
A reading was given by Charlotte McDowell. The children all sang a few selections, concluding the program.
Mrs. Lee J. Smith was program chairman. Mrs. Lewis Berkenbile and Mrs. L. A. Bane were on the social committee; Mrs. Ralph McDowell and Miss Beulah Armstrong prepared the treat for the children. Refreshments were served.
Rev. Swafford concluded the meeting with prayer.

Whiteman Unit Will Hold Open House

The 488th Bomb Squadron at Whiteman Air Force Base, will hold an "open house" for their squadron personnel and families Dec. 31, in the squadron area between 2 and 5 p.m.

Major John Turnbull, 488th Squadron Commander, has arranged the program to better acquaint the dependents of the members of his squadron with their operations.

The visitors will receive an explanation of the B-47 jet bomber flown by the 488th and the 340th Bomb Wing, and tour the base facilities in addition to the 488th area.

Refreshments will be served and the 488th invites all Whiteman families to join them.

Mrs. B. B. Bess Is Beaumont's New President

Mrs. B. B. Bess, 1115 West Third, was recently installed as worthy president of Sedalia Assembly No. 23, Social Order of the Beaumont.

The assembly room was decorated in the Beaumont colors of red and white, using white as a background centered with the cross and crown and white cross entwined with red roses. A large bouquet of red roses, which was presented to Mrs. Bess by her husband, daughter and son, carried out the color scheme further.

Miss Shirley Kirkpatrick sang appropriate words to the song, "I'll Walk Beside You," to the newly installed president, accompanied by the pianist, Mrs. Mae Moser. Mrs. Glenn Kirkpatrick presented the gift from the assembly to the new president.

Preceding the installation, with the flag of the United States waving in the center of the room, a tribute was given by Sir Knight Joe Smetana, before the flag was borne to the East.

An impressive drill was given by Sir Knights of St. Omer Commandery, No. 11, in full dress uniforms and the ladies in white satin robes.

The Bible was presented by Mrs. Charles Hofheins, who repeated the 23rd Psalm.

Other officers installed were: Oracle, Mrs. E. W. Sands; first vice-president, Mrs. James Franks; second vice-president, Mrs. B. Y. Edelen; preceptress, Mrs. John Skolaut; recorder, Mrs. William Reed; treasurer, Mrs. Linden L. Jones; marshal, Mrs. E. C. Wollet; assistant marshal, Mrs. Floyd Knerl; chaplain, Mrs. Charles Hofheins; director of music, Mrs.

New Year's Road Deaths Record Likely

Mrs. James Ripley, Knob Noster, gave a pink and blue shower at her home for Mrs. A. G. Gill, LaMonte. Canasta was played and refreshments served.

Others present were, Mrs. Floyd Ripley, Mrs. S. H. Gill, Mrs. Don Houchens, Mrs. Owen Russell, Miss Betty King and Mrs. Ruth Price, LaMonte; Mrs. Melvin Foster and Miss Wilma Lyle, Knob Noster.

CHICAGO — Traffic deaths, which soared to an all-time high for any holiday during the Christmas period, may also hit a record toll during the long New Year weekend.

Deaths on the nation's highways from 6 p.m. (local time) Friday to midnight Tuesday, the National Safety Council estimates, may total 490. That would be 83 more than the record of 407 deaths for a New Year period, established during a four-day span in 1952-53.

The 490 traffic toll was termed possible by the council "unless there is a sharp improvement in the driving habits that shocked the nation over Christmas." It said the toll for a similar nonholiday period at this time of year would be 420.

In the four-day Christmas period, traffic fatalities totaled 706, the first time during any holiday period in U. S. history they climbed above 700. The council's pre-Christmas estimate was 660.

During the 1955 Christmas and 1956 New Year holidays, the combined traffic death tolls hit a record of 973. The New Year period total was 364. Each holiday period for counting purposes, was three days.

The final tabulation of all accidental deaths for this Christmas period of 102 hours showed a total of 884, a new all-time high for any holiday. The previous record was 805, during the Fourth of July celebration in 1955.

Meteors Seen As Barrier To Space Ship

NEW YORK — Speedy visitors from space hit the earth 2,300 times a second, by new calculations reported today.

These visitors are meteors or shooting stars.

They are so numerous they might literally blast open a space ship long before it could journey to the moon or Mars. They could be one of the greatest barriers to the promised age of space travel.

The new calculations are that 200 million shooting stars visible to the naked eye zing into the earth's atmosphere every day.

They range from the size of dust specks to BB shot or bigger. In total, the 200 million daily visitors weigh at least 10 tons. They travel at speeds from 30,000 to 180,000 miles per hour, and most perish in incandescent brightness from friction of our planet's air.

They all come from so-called empty space, which man is on the eve of exploring with little man-made moons.

The new estimate was prepared for presentation to the American Astronomical Society and American Assn. for the Advancement of Science by Peter M. Millman and Miriam S. Burland of the National Research Council, Dominion Observatory, in Canada.
